I'VE WORKED WITH

About

My name is Andrea Metafuni and I am a photographer, filmmaker and colorist based in Milan, working and shooting worldwide. Inspired and humbled daily by people and nature, constantly looking for emotions and aesthetic, my claim in what I do is "I tell a story and therefore I exist". Always looking for new emotions and aesthetic, my style is moved by the mood. My audience is mainly made up of travelers, adventurers, aspiring photographers/videomakers and professional photographers/videomakers. Their interests are mainly related to these niches, so they are drawn to travel related products and services or photography and electronics products.

What I can offer

As a photographer, filmmaker and creative director I can create contents for brand's social media channels, websites or magazines with a personal style and vision. My role is to understand customer requests through their briefs and give them a visual answer for their needs. With a growing community of almost 30k I can share my experiences and shots on Instagram to spread brand awareness, products and services visibility.

I am always open to share and discuss new projects and creative ideas.
